Head, UBC Division of Endocrinology and Metabolism
Department of Medicine

The Department of Medicine at the University of British Columbia invites internal applications for a leadership opportunity as the Head of the UBC Division of Endocrinology and Metabolism.

The successful candidate will be responsible for the development and coordination of the entire Division, which is made up of programs located at all of UBC’s teaching hospitals. He/she will be tasked with leading the Division of Endocrinology and Metabolism in its Provincial focus on clinical care, education and research.

The successful candidate will be an excellent clinician and a strong leader with demonstrated interpersonal and administrative skills. He/she will be experienced with educational programs, and will be supportive of the educational and research missions of the Division and the aspirations of Division faculty. The incumbent will have demonstrated excellence in teaching and will be expected to participate in the undergraduate and postgraduate teaching activities of the Division and Department.

The successful candidate must have an FRCPC or equivalent in Endocrinology and Metabolism, and be licensed to practice Endocrinology and Metabolism in British Columbia. The successful candidate will be a current UBC faculty member within the Department of Medicine, Division of Endocrinology and Metabolism, and be at the rank of Associate Professor or higher in either the clinical or the academic stream.

The leadership opportunity will commence as early as January 1, 2018 and the closing date for applications is December 15, 2017.

Applications should include curriculum vitae, a teaching dossier, a letter describing research interests and plans, and four (4) letters of reference addressing scholarly, professional and creative work, teaching and administration. Applications should be sent to:

Diane Lacaille, MD, FRCPC, MHSc
Mary Pack Chair in Arthritis Research
Professor, Division of Rheumatology
Associate Head Academic Affairs and Co-Acting Head, UBC Department of Medicine

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Metis, Inuit, or Indigenous person. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.
